

HUGO BOSS

PAUL CHAN AWARDED THE HUGO BOSS PRIZE 2014

Richard Armstrong, Paul Chan, and Gerrit Rützel, HUGO BOSS PRIZE 2014 at the Guggenheim Museum on November 20, 2014 in New York City. Courtesy HUGO BOSS.

(Metzingen/New York) November 21, 2014— Last night the Solomon R. Guggenheim Foundation and HUGO BOSS announced Paul Chan as the recipient of the HUGO BOSS PRIZE 2014. The festive award ceremony took place at the Guggenheim Museum in New York.

The international jury comprised of museum curators and directors selected the New York-based artist Paul Chan, known for using a myriad of artistic practices, as this year's winner. His work will be showcased in a solo exhibition at the Solomon R. Guggenheim Museum in New York in Spring 2015.

The other artists nominated by the jury were Sheela Gowda (India), Camille Henrot (France), Charline von Heyl (Germany), and Hassan Khan (Great Britain).

Notable guests included:

Richard Armstrong, Michael Avedon, Amelia Bauer, Valeria Bilello, Max Blagg, Stefan Bondell, Kate Bosworth, Christopher Burke, Marco Brambilla, Simon Castets, Germano Celant, Paul Chan, Mina Cvetkovic, Cecilia Dean, Annabelle Dexter-Jones, Scott Eastwood, RoseLee Goldberg, Camille Henrot, Hannah Herzprung, Logan Horne, Joshua Jackson, Genevieve Jones, Hassan Khan, Curtis Kulig, Amy Lyne, Peter McGough,

HUGO BOSS

Nicola Peltz, Michael Polish, Natasha Poly, Karim Rashid, Doreen Remen, Margot Robbie, Katharina Schüttler, Shelter Serra, Charlie Siem, Nancy Spector, Casey Spooner, Emily Sundblad, Jamie Tisch, Inez Van Lamsweerde, Charline Von Heyl, Neville Wakefield, and Kehinde Wiley.

"The long and successful story of the HUGO BOSS PRIZE bears testimony to the continuity of our arts sponsorship program," explained Dr. Hjoerdis Kettenbach, Head of Cultural Affairs at HUGO BOSS. "We would like to extend our congratulations to the winner and express our gratitude to the jury and the Guggenheim Museum for their dedication and cooperation. We are already looking forward to Paul Chan's solo exhibition this coming spring."

Initiated in 1996, the prize is awarded every two years to artists whose oeuvre has constituted a significant contribution to the evolution of the contemporary visual arts. Carrying a stipend of $100,000 USD, the award is administered by the Solomon R. Guggenheim Foundation.

Since its establishment, the award has gone to Matthew Barney, USA (1996), Douglas Gordon, Scotland (1998), Marjetica Potrč, Slovenia (2000), Pierre Huyghe, France (2002), Rirkrit Tiravanija, Thailand (2004), Tacita Dean, Great Britain (2006), Emily Jacir, Palestine (2008), Hans-Peter Feldmann, Germany (2010), and Danh Vo, Denmark (2012).

Further information on the HUGO BOSS PRIZE and the nominated artists is available on hugoboss-prize.com

For publicity images, please visit:

http://press.hugoboss.com/collection/HUGO_BOSS_Prize_2014

Please join the conversation on Instagram by following @hugoboss and using the hashtag #HBP2014.

Media Contacts:

Anna Rosa Thomae, FITZ & CO, annarosa@fitzandco.com

Nicole Rumore, FITZ & CO, nicole.rumore@fitzandco.com