National Geographic Magazine Photography Seminar 2012

January 12th, 2012

Featuring: David LaChapelle with Robert Draper, plus Kitra Cahana, Gillian Laub, Cirenaica Moreira, Paolo Pellegrin with Anthony Bannon, Robin Schwartz, and Anthony Suau of Facing Change.

Every Year, National Geographic invites a select group of photographers to their headquarters in Washington DC, for an all day celebration of photography. Over the past 35 years photographers such as Duane Michals, Helmut Newton, Larry Fink, Edward Burtynsky, Gordon Parks, Josef Koudelka, and Don McCullin, have presented. This year, National Geographic Magazine editor Kurt Mutchler, has asked David LaChapelle to present. The audience (of about 400) includes not only National Geographic photographers and staff, but photo colleagues--editors, curators, and critics--from the larger publishing and exhibition community.
