Are you in Madrid right now? Us neither, but it would be a lot cooler if we were. If for some reason we do get the day off on Wednesday and get a free plane ticket to hop on over to the Spanish capital, we'll be heading to Galeria Javier Lopez to check out Todd James' new show, Great Adventure. All the REAS cartoon tanks, ladies, rockets, political commentary, and plain awesomeness you can handle. It will be on display Tuesday through Saturday until November 3 if you make it to Spain over the next month. We're sure it's worth checking. [galeriajavierlopez.com]
