

1st Dibs on One Jackson Square

One Jackson Square and 1stdibs.com collaborate on a new designer showcase concept that puts the building's exceptional interiors and the website's luxurious collection on display.

The serpentine exterior of One Jackson Square with its glass "ribbons" reflecting the brick and stone that characterize the West Village.

Amidst the historic brownstones and cobblestone streets of the West Village is One Jackson Square, a new modernist condominium designed by Kohn Pedersen Fox. The contrast of charming setting and contemporary design is striking, and beautiful. Located at 122 Greenwich Avenue, One Jackson Square stands 11 glass stories tall, each level curving and undulating like ribbons in the wind to enwrap 30 one-of-a-kind loft residences.

Sensational one-, two- and three-bedroom homes, many with outdoor space, offer panoramic views of Jackson Square Park and other magnificent city vistas. Amenities include a state-of-the-art screening room, catering kitchen, exercise facility, spa treatment room, fireside lounge and landscaped common terrace, as well as valet parking at an additional cost.

One Jackson Square is currently host to a dynamic designer showcase that doubles as the first ever 1stdibs.com pop-up shop, featuring three spectacular residences curated by designers Steven Gambrel of S.R. Gambrel, Julie Hillman Design and David Mann of MR Architecture + Décor. The website is the world's leading online resource for antiques, 20th-century design, jewelry and fashion, and is the exclusive source for the designer showcase. Representing over 700 dealers and more than a half billion dollars of inventory, 1stdibs.com is a fantastic alternative to Sotheby's and Christie's.

Those who are truly inspired by the showcase have the opportunity to make it their own—residences are available for purchase fully decorated, as are the individual items within.

RESIDENCE DESIGNED BY JULIE HILLMAN

"My residence was designed with the enthusiastic collector in mind," says Julie Hillman of the thinking behind the design of this oversized one-bedroom. "I combined iconic vintage pieces with cutting-edge artwork and comfortable, opulent furniture."

RESIDENCE DESIGNED BY DAVID MANN

"We imagined designing this apartment for a single man," David Mann explains of the concept behind this two-bedroom duplex with outdoor space. Mann employed shades of grey and black, and strong materials like concrete, marble and metal. The weight of Mann's materials is balanced by a sense of lightness and tranquility.

RESIDENCE DESIGNED BY STEVEN GAMBREL

"The apartment has a glassy, airy volume," says Steven Gambrel of this two-bedroom duplex with outdoor space, "and I wanted to layer lifestyle into the setting. My view was to dress the rooms for the real-life activities we all do. The apartment maintains its modern spirit, but is warm and familiar." ♦

Log onto www.1stdibs.com to see the designers' resource lists.

Art consulting services provided by Amy Mestei and Tanja Grunert.

Event sponsors: Serenity Movers and Benjamin Moore.