PRESS

A stylized logo for the artist Andy Howell. The word "HOWELL" is written in a bold, yellow, blocky font with a black outline. The letters are set against a black background that looks like a paint splatter or a piece of graffiti. Red and yellow paint drips are visible at the bottom of the logo.

Viewing Andy Howell's artwork is like turning on a bright light in a pitch black space. There is something so loud and shocking that you can't seem to avoid it. Formerly a professional skateboarder, designer, and illustrator, Andy Howell is an expert on many things, particularly on how to intrigue an audience. Among his graffiti, bold color, grotesque cartoon-like images, and sprayed and streaming paint pulses an energy that pushes back boundaries and challenges the viewer. Now on view are the artist's stirring paintings that he created after his father's death. Flip on the light. (KK)
