▼ “So I traveled a great deal...”

This show spotlights six Northern California artists whose careers stretch back decades. The show aims to uncover “the ahead-of-its-time, the hard-to-classify, the ecstatic, the hermetic and the strange” and certainly delivers with such works as Isabella Kirkland’s paintings of neon-bright mollusks and Jack Mendenhall’s photorealistic takes on luxe domestic interiors from the 1970s and ’80s.
